The application review process is more thorough when grant funding is being applied for, minus the representative from the Engineer's Office, all six, (6) other members donate their time to the Board and the City. Schedule activity usually drops off towards the end of the year, and significantly increases at the beginning of the year-if grant funding is available. The Board typically meets once a month in the latter part of the year. The main focus of discussion for the Board is signage in the downtown area. Discussions are more in depth if a façade makeover is being proposed.

Co-Chairs: Bob Williams, Bryce Riggs

Term: 4 years per Charter 7.03(A)

The Zoning Board of Appeals is described as a quasi-judicial body that shall hear requests for conditional uses, variances, and appeals and decide whether or not to grant the request. The Board's activity follows the seasonal construction schedule, which is typically May to September range. The majority of the cases that the Board reviews are "land area variance request", and out of those, corner lots make up the majority of the requests due to the property having, essentially, two (2) front yard setback requirements. The setback requirements are established from each street of way upon which the property is situated. Scheduled meetings usually do not cover more than 1-2 cases, and can range from 20 minutes to 1 hour.

Mediation is a voluntary process to settle disputes without court action. There is no charge assessed for participation. Volunteer, trained mediators help parties reach a mutually acceptable resolution to their dispute.

Examples of the types of disputes that can be brought to mediation:

- Property damage
- Landlord-tenant disputes
- Neighborhood disputes
- Contract disputes
- Lender-borrower disputes
- Employer-employee disputes
- Harassment
- Breach of peace
- Menacing threats
- Animal control
- Trespassing
- Unpaid debts
- Business-consumer disputes

To start the process, a person must come to Tiffin-Fostoria Municipal Court to fill out a form. The mediation coordinator will then contact the other person(s) involved and schedule a meeting with a mediator at a place and time convenient for everyone. There is no cost.

Mediation is confidential and cannot be used against anyone later. No records are kept. If agreement is reached, it is written down and signed by each party, who receive the only copies of the agreement. If the agreement is broken, everyone is free to pursue other legal remedies.
